Location Map

Appendix F-1

This map shows the general location of the Clark Fork Site, but does not specifically delineate the historic 100 year floodplain nor does it describe the historically irrigated lands and associated contaminated areas. Appendix F-2, attached, delineates EPA's current understanding of the 100 year floodplain for Reach A of the Clark Fork River Site. It is an approximation of the 100 year floodplain, subject to change. During remedial design, the historic floodplain for Reach A will be further refined and defined, as will historically irrigated lands and associated contaminated areas.
